I am pleased to send you a complimentary copy of the book "The Ugaritic abjad... a rovás alphabet" (History of the alphabets).

The book proves that the the **Pannonico rovas* were the Mother of all alphabets, from which the Germanic runes, the Magyar rovás, the Greek and Etruscan alphabets, and the Phoenician abjad (through the Ugaritic abjad) derived.

You can look at the web site michelangelo.cn for more information.

The Ugaritic abjad... ...a rovás alphabet

Sunset, Pács, Hungary

Michelangelo.cn

What have we inherited from the first, indigenous, populations of Europe? Who were they? How did they live? Whom did they worship? What type of language did they speak? What were their society, art, and culture like?

...“Old Europe” already knew how to write 4000 years ago: the Finno-Ugrians had already invented an alphabet... Grimm’s Laws, the basis of Indo-Europeanism, are not correct... The Magyars were still in Europe at the end of the 2nd millennium B.C. and the Honfoglalás was the reconquest of their ancestral lands... The Phoenicians copied their alphabet from the population, who pre-dated the Greeks and who had already been recognized by Herodotus as having an alphabet... The Etruscan Haruspices, who wore conical headdresses...
